APPLICATION FOR FDIME RESEARCH GRANT for the STUDY of RARE DISEASES

The Foundation for the Development of Internal Medicine in Europe (FDIME) offers grants of up to 20,000 Euros each (for a maximum period of 1 year) to Young Internists under the age of 38 years who intend to develop research in the field of Rare Diseases in Adults.

The objective of the grant awards is to promote exchanges between European researchers enabling the grant recipient to undertake research outside the applicant's country of residence.

The purpose of the grant is to provide part-funding to facilitate the applicant's lifestyle during the period of research in another country, and not for organizing the research itself. A budget plan must be submitted with your application.

The applicant is required to inform FDIME of any additional sources of funding that have been applied for, or are available to them for the intended research project.

1. Eligibility criteria

- The Applicant must be a Young Internist, and under the age of 38 years.
- The Applicant must be a PhD or equivalent (or studying for a PhD or equivalent).
- The Applicant must be a member of one of the National Societies of Internal Medicine affiliated to EFIM (the European Federation of Internal Medicine), and have been a member for not less than 1 year at the time of application.
- The Applicant must be able to submit a Project Proposal relevant to the topic of Rare Diseases in Internal Medicine. The project can cover translational medicine, basic or clinical research.
